Murder probe after body of hairstylist discovered

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A MURDER investigation has been launched after the body of an award-winning hairstylist was found following a flat fire in Wolverton on Monday night.

Tributes have been pouring in for Ashley Gillard, 31, who was a self-employed hairstylist at Hairco 2 in The Square in the town.

Police officers have launched a murder investigation and as this paper went to press a 25-year-old man was still in custody after being arrested on suspicion of murder.

Forensic teams were conducting enquiries in the area of the flat throughout the day yesterday.

A post-mortem examination is due to take place today.

Friends have praised Ashley as a 'brilliant hairdresser' and a 'kind-hearted' man.

Stevyn Kemp told MK NEWS: "Ashley was my best friend, we could spend days together and not got sick of each other's company. RIP trouble."

Catherine Maguire said: "This is terribly sad. I knew Ashley from a child as I worked with his family. Thoughts and love with them.

"I haven't seen him for a few years, but he was always fun and kind-hearted."

She said: "So sad, RIP Ashley. Brilliant hairdresser! So friendly and chatty."

Scene of crime: Forensic and police officers outside the flat where the body of Ashley Gillard, right, was found on Monday

Ashley also worked at Hensmans salon in Central Milton Keynes and members of staff John and Julie Hensmans and daughter Gemma said: "A brilliant award-winning hair-dresser, Ashley will never be forgotten. He will be sadly missed by all at Hensmans salons in Midsummer Boulevard and Northampton."

Ashley, who last year won a client service award and Northampton retail award for Hensmans, was found after more than 30 firefighters were called to the fourth-floor flat in Trevithick Court at 11.30pm on Monday. It is believed he died before the fire started.

Detective Superintendent Chris Ward, from the police's major crime unit, said: "We are at the early stages of our investigation but initial enquiries suggest that the offender and the victim were known to each other. We are working to establish the exact circumstances of the man's death.

"Residents may notice an increased police presence in the area as officers continue making enquiries."

Anyone with information should call police on 101.

‘Miracle’ as family walk from smash

BY SAMANTHA BOOTH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A BRADVILLE father and his five children walked away from a horrific minibus crash that saw a 12-week girl launched from the vehicle in her car seat.

Douglas Bedford, 37, of Harrowden, says it was a ‘miracle’ the driver and all seven passengers, including the infant, escaped with minor injuries despite the bus flipping three times.

The infant was discharged from hospital this week following the crash on the A74(M) in Scotland on at about 5.25pm on Wednesday, June 3.

The party was returning from a family funeral when driver Ian Scrivener, 33, reportedly blacked out before the bus rode up an embankment and rolled.

The white minibus and another silver van were travelling south from the funeral of the children’s granddad, in Helensburgh, Argyll.

Mr Bedford was asleep at the time, having swapped over with Mr Scrivener at a motorway service station.

Mr Bedford’s children in the vehicle were Douglas Junior, 14, Heather, 13, Kyle, 12, Andy, 10, Ryan, eight, and his 16-year-old niece, Sammy Jo.

Both girls suffered broken ribs and all had minor injuries. The baby, Mercedes, was treated for suspected head injuries in the Royal Hospital for Sick Children at Yorkhill in Glasgow.

“I fell asleep in the car park and the next time I was awake the van had crashed,” said Mr Bedford, who runs Dougy’s Garden Service and MK Gas 24/7.

“My niece Sammy Jo recalled what happened as she was the only one awake.

“She said Ian must have blacked out as his head went forward and smashed on the steering wheel and the van went up the embankment. She thinks we flipped about three times over.

“The car seat for Mercedes had come completely out. The baby was on the embankment outside the van. Thankfully it was a good seat that protected her.

“[My nephew] Duncan, also known as ‘Dugse’, who was in the silver van behind with the rest of the family, and Douglas Junior started getting us all out of the van. It was their priority.

“Mercedes was crying and her mother, Boo Jones, was trying to keep her awake.

“The children noticed diesel was leaking on the road. Ian was stuck in his seat and a lorry driver, who had pulled over to help us, cut him out.

“Ryan came out without a single scratch on him but my daughter was in a bad way with shock and my arm was four times the size from bruising.

“Luckily the van is restricted to 56 miles per hour or this could have been worse. It was a miracle. It is unbelievable we all walked away.”

Mr Bedford said he was not aware of Ian blacking out before and that he cannot be blamed for the accident.

He said: “We forgive him. He has been bending over backwards to help us as he feels guilty.

“He is part of the extended family that’s always there for us and this was not his fault.”

In May, Mercedes’ parents and three passengers were driving in Scotland when the bonnet of the car they were in came off and smashed the wind screen. No one was injured.

Mr Bedford added: “We are a family of near misses. This was a final kick from Scotland. I’ll not be going back if I can help it.”

Hail Odin: Vikings entertain the crowds at Emberton Country Park's 50th anniversary celebrations

Viking battle at birthday bash

THE Vikings came to Emberton Country Park on Saturday to help it celebrate its 50th anniversary.

It was a great, fun-filled day for all the family as hundreds of visitors wandered around a Viking village and watched them fight in an exhilarating battle re-enactment.

Archery and axe throwing were also among the attractions, while dog owners had the chance to enter their pet into competitions such as the Waggiest Tail.

People could also enjoy a guided countryside walk and sample locally produced food and crafts.

Prayers for boy run over by car

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A FIVE-YEAR-OLD boy is fighting for his life after he was hit by a car outside his home on Sunday.

It is believed the boy, who has been named locally as Riley Ferguson, was sitting on the footpath in Woodspring Court, Monkston, at about 1.50pm when he was hit by a black Vauxhall Insignia.

He is now at the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford and was in a life-threatening condition at the time this paper went to press.

Riley is a pupil at Saint Bernadette's Catholic Primary School in Monkston Park.

Headteacher Maxine Clewlow told MK NEWS: "We have spoken to the children and the whole school is deeply saddened to hear Riley is so poorly.

"We know him as a lovely little boy, full of brightness.

"Students and staff are praying for Riley and his family at this time."

One neighbour, who did not want to be named, said: "We're just praying he pulls through. My children play on the street and it's sickening to think something like this can happen here."

Another added: "He was not playing in the road and was sat on the path. The driver did stop."

Anyone with information should call police on 101.

Arsonists strike again in city

FIVE arson attacks took place in the city over the weekend – bringing the total to 12 in just four weeks.

The latest incidents happened in Bletchley with a wheelie bin set on fire twice in Kenilworth Drive on Saturday night and an outhouse and rubbish set alight at separate addresses in Tattenhoe Lane in the early hours of Sunday. Later on Sunday, a litter bin was set on fire in Campbell Park.

Have a say on hostel plan

RESIDENTS are being asked what they would like to see replace a controversial youth hostel after it closed in Bletchley.

MK NEWS revealed in April 2014 how young people aged 16 to 21 housed in St Mungo's hostel in St George's Road were making life a 'nightmare' for residents. It finally closed its doors at the end of last month.

A421 junction change

THE impact of changes to the dangerous A421 junction with Trafalgar Avenue, West Bletchley, have divided the community.

As local councillors, Mick Legg and I have been working to improve the dangerous junction since 2006. Following consultation with the police, new safety measures were put in place in 2013.

I've talked to a lot of residents who said it has not made the junction safer. So I did a postal survey of all homes in the two neighbouring communities, the Scots and the Barleyhurst. The result was residents were divided almost 50:50 on the impact.

The A421 is a very fast road and the fundamental problem is that there is no slip road out on to it.

Many residents say to me the road speed limit should be reduced; others are against that. So I plan to reopen discussions with residents. I think we need to look at the slip road issue again.

Let me know your views at nigel.long@milton-keynes.gov.uk

Keep an eye on dogs

I WAS horrified to see a young man get thrown over the handlebars of his bike because of an inconsiderate dog owner who allowed their pet to run free along the redway and straight across his path.

He was clearly injured and how he managed to get up afterwards was beyond me. It helped that he was wearing a helmet. A lesson to us all. He appeared to patch himself up and hobble off.

Those dog owners who carelessly let their dogs annoy pedestrians, joggers and cyclists – and turn a blind eye when it messes many yards away – should take a moment to think what sort of impact this has on the individual and their family and friends when someone gets hurt.

Keep your pets on a lead until there is a more appropriate area for them to run around.

I'm haunted by the sight of this poor man crashing and hope he is okay.

Let's have Grebe back

THE Grebe pub was built in the 1980s and its name reflected the location near to the Lodge Lake with its large amount of wildlife, especially the Grebes, water birds which breed there.

The Mayor of Milton Keynes reopened an improved pub last December 2014 and it was given the new name of The Kensington. The name comes from the upmarket area of West London now dominated by Russian billionaires.

Six months on the manager at the pub, Lindsey Butler, is asking local residents: "If there is anything you could change about the pub what would it be?"

Following lobbying by local residents and myself, we are calling for the pub name to change back to The Grebe.

This might sound like small beer to some but we support residents' views that The Kensington sounds like a London pub. We know it's on Kensington Drive but we all still call the pub The Grebe.

The grebes the pub was originally named after are still delighting visitors with their diving antics and their majestic looks. We want the pub to do well but we want The Grebe back.

If you agree please let me know by emailing zoe.nolan@milton-keynes.gov.uk. Or you can contact me on Twitter – @ZoeNolan3.

Call to scrap the deal

I'M ONE of two million people who have signed the petition to scrap the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership (TTIP).

This deal could allow big corporations to buy up some our most vital services, like the NHS. It would also give big businesses the power to sue our Government if they don't like the laws that protect all of us. That's just not right.

There's a rare chance for our UK politicians in Europe (MEPs) to scrap the worst parts of the deal. I'm calling on my MEP to vote against it.

Why risk your life?

I'VE been reading stories about your campaign to get more people to use the city's underpasses and redways with interest over recent weeks.

I'm staggered by the number of people who continue to cross grid roads in Milton Keynes. Anybody who does that must have a death wish.

I think it's pure laziness that drives people to do it and I just despair every time I see someone put their life at risk by crossing the grid roads.

There are too many young people dying on our roads so hopefully your campaign can help stop people crossing these busy roads where cars are doing up to 70mph and lives can be saved.

Flames destroy timber building

BY CHRIS KNIGHT & SAMANTHA BOOTH

editor@mk-news.co.uk

A BUILDING under construction in a housing development partially collapsed on Monday evening after being engulfed in flames.

An investigation is taking place into the cause of the blaze at the building site in Atlas Way, Oakgrove, which was attended by more than 40 firefighters.

The site's developers Crest Nicholson confirmed no-one was injured in the fire at the four-storey timber frame, which it is believed would have been a set of flats upon completion.

In a statement to MK NEWS, the building firm said: "Emergency procedures were immediately activated and no-one has been injured.

"The area of the site has no public access but has been further sealed off as a precaution. Enquiries are underway to establish the cause of the fire."

Eyewitness Luis Gomes, who works as a duty manager at Oakgrove Leisure Centre across the road from the fire, said: "It was really dark and I could see no flames, just dark smoke."

The large smoke billow was visible across large parts of the city before it was extinguished.

Sadia Peneux, 33, of Atlas Way, who was in her flat opposite the fire with her young daughter, said: "I did not know what to do, whether I should go outside or not because the flames were getting big. I stayed at the window recording it until the police finally arrived and they evacuated the area."

Hospital change after gran dies

A LOVING grandmother, in hospital for an emergency bowel cancer operation, died of multi-organ failure after waiting a week in bed.

A breakdown in communication between shift-swapping medics contributed to the death of Sandra Porter, who grew increasingly weak despite pleas from her family.

A series of failings at Milton Keynes University Hospital were yesterday outlined during the inquest into the death of the 68-year-old from Walnut Tree on January 23, 2014.

New systems have been put in place at the hospital following her death.

Milton Keynes Coroner's Court heard how Mrs Porter was admitted on January 13 for the procedure by consultant Richard O'Hara.

The operation was delayed until January 22. Mr O'Hara understood Mrs Porter was sent home to wait on January 14. Instead, she was told to remain on ward 20 by another member of staff.

The colorectal and general surgeon was 'flabbergasted' to find his patient looking 'really, really unwell' during his pre-op walk the night before her operation.

He told the inquest: "I would expect to be told that a patient I had seen had remained in hospital."

During her time in hospital, an on-call registrar requested an X-ray on January 15, which revealed a possible obstruction, requiring further assessment. The report was not retrieved from the system by the registrar.

Mrs Porter was checked on by consultant surgeon Kyi Toe one night, but Mr O'Hara was not informed.

Senior Coroner Tom Osborne said: "The failure in communication and delay in surgery resulted in a missed opportunity to receive effective medical treatment."

Husband of 47 years, Keith Porter, 69, said: "The verdict was one we were expecting and it vindicates the points we raised in our dealings and complaints with the hospital regarding her care.

"Sandra was a loving mum and grandmother. She would talk to anybody about anything for any reason."

Professor Martin Wetherill, medical director of Milton Keynes University Hospital Foundation Trust, said: "We would like to extend our sincere apologies and condolences to Mr Porter and family over the death of Mrs Porter."

Bees set to buzz off

MILTON Keynes Council is aiming to get rid of a swarm of honey bees from a Bletchley flat tomorrow.

Thousands of bees have been causing misery for a family who live in Pembroke House in Somerset Court.

Luke Chambers, 33, his wife Kady and children Jenna, eight, and Jack, three, have to keep their windows closed to stop the bees coming into their property.

Mr Chambers added he was not comfortable with his children playing outside in case they got stung.

He said he also contacted the council last year about the problem.

A spokesman for the authority said: "We are aware of this problem but it needs to be handled carefully.

"As the problem is occurring on several floors, we will need to use scaffolding or some kind of mobile platform.

"However, we are visiting the property this Thursday [tomorrow] and we hope to deal with the problem then."

THE headteachers of the primary and secondary schools ranked number one by review website School Guide have spoken of their joy at the results.

Bryan Schram, who has worked at Southwood Primary School for 15 years, said: "We are absolutely delighted. Over the last few years it has been a team effort with help from parents and children.

"The key is the way we organise ourselves and we want children to feel good by involving them in decisions."

Mr Schram believes the school, which was rated 'good' in its July 2013 Ofsted inspection, has 'outstanding' qualities, including the school's Learning and Achievement Base (LAB).

Once a week, classes attend the LAB for Kaleidoscope – a colour therapy session – where children talk about the colours they are shown and how they feel.

Mr Schram said: "The main aim is to make sure children feel good about themselves. They speak about any issues they have got and become confident speakers where they feel safe and secure."

Joy: Headteachers Sue Carbert and Bryan Schram with pupils

Ousedale headteacher Sue Carbert believes the results are a reward for five years of hard work.

She said: "I want Ousedale to compete with the best public schools. There is no reason why students here should not aim for Oxford and Cambridge and aim to become doctors and lawyers – nothing is impossible."

Ousedale was rated 'good' by Ofsted in its last inspection and 65 per cent of students achieved five A*-C GCSE grades – 12 per cent above the national average.

But Mrs Carbert insists the school looks beyond exam results.

She said: "It is about the full experience. We want everyone to get the best out of their lives beyond Ousedale."

School Guide has been criticised by some parents for the variables in the search criteria. These results were gathered on the website by searching the 'best' 20 primary and secondary schools in the area.

Event sinks due to a lack of help

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

Cancelled: The Great Linford Waterside Festival attracted thousands of visitors

THE popular Great Linford Waterside Festival has been cancelled because there aren't enough volunteers to help run it.

After many years of running the annual three-day event, the voluntary organisers announced on Friday they have decided not to hold it this year.

The festival, which has traditionally been held in June, has provided a free community event for families and attracted many artists, who had the opportunity to demonstrate their skills, and charities.

A statement from the organisers said: "The trustees have agreed that, despite the success of the event and the evident enjoyment of those who attend, they are not able to run it any longer.

"The festival has been run by a voluntary committee and nearly all the work is carried out by a very small group of volunteers.

"However, in the last few years, fewer and fewer volunteers have come forward to help run it and the massive support needed over the weekend itself has dwindled. The event has also required an increasingly heavy organisational burden to make sure it is safe for all to enjoy."

The trustees are considering what the next steps will be and updates will be available shortly. There are hopes that the festival can be held again the future.

Drug deal was absolute pants

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A TEENAGER who had £680 stashed in his pants has been jailed for four years for intent to deal Class A drugs.

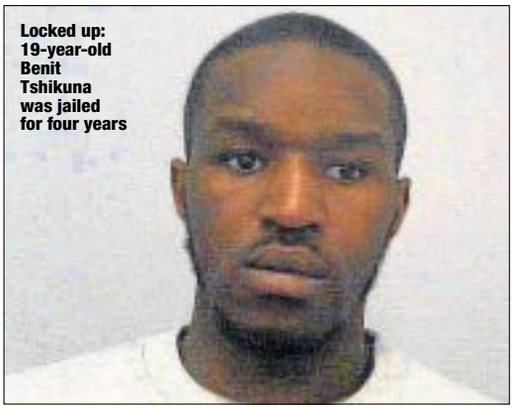
Benit Tshikuna, aged 19, of Rydal Way in Bletchley, was found guilty by a unanimous jury at Aylesbury Crown Court on Friday, May 29 of possession with intent to supply heroin and cocaine.

Tshikuna was the second defendant in a joint case with Jama Abdi, 23, of Chalk Road, London, who was jailed for three years and six months in September facing the same charges.

On July 2, 2014, the two men were seen acting suspiciously in an alleyway in Oldbrook. Police attended and both men were detained and arrested for drugs offences.

During a strip search in custody, Tshikuna was found to have £680 in cash hidden in his pants and a further £20.93 in his pocket.

He was also found in possession of three mobile phones and a small bag of cannabis. Cops found a text message relating to drug dealing on one of the phones.



Locked up: 19-year-old Benit Tshikuna was jailed for four years

Tshikuna and Abdi were sentenced as part of Operation Dipsomania, an investigation to tackle the supply of Class A and B drugs in Milton Keynes. Four other men and one woman have previously been convicted and are currently serving prison sentences as part of this operation - which seized more than £80,000 worth of drugs.

PC Michael Cook from Milton Keynes police station said: "This result comes at the end of a 12 month investigation into the supply of class A drugs across Milton Keynes.

"We will investigate and pursue the few individuals and groups who seek to prey on the vulnerable within our communities."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Damage caused by the vandals will cost Stony Stratford Town Football Club around £1,000 to repair

Vandals strike at club

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

'DESPICABLE' vandals trashed a football club leaving a £1,000 repair bill and a dejected team of volunteers.

Floodlight cables were ripped from their sockets and dugout benches were smashed at Stony Stratford Town Foot-ball Club during the weekend of May 29-31.

The Ostlers Lane club has been open to the community for more than 100 years and currently has 12 teams.

The club, which leases the land from Milton Keynes

Council, is used by more than 200 men, women and children throughout the football season of August to May.

The 'despicable act' has been condemned by the club's chairman Philip Smith who says the club's volunteers have been left completely deflated by what has happened.

Mr Smith said: "This despicable act must not go unnoticed and ruins the efforts of our many volunteers.

"Volunteers just feel 'what is the point'.

"This was ridiculous vandalism, which is totally unacceptable. The damage is going to cost us more than £1,000 [to repair].

"I would ask these people to think about what they've done and how they have affected their community."

HOW YOU CAN AVOID THE TAX TRAP SUFFERED BY RIK MAYALL

When the comedian Rik Mayall died in June 2014 the publicly held probate records revealed that he hadn't written a will. He was married with children. As a result unnecessary Inheritance Tax became payable on his estate and his surviving wife will have to pay more Inheritance Tax when she dies. This could have been totally avoided were he to have simply written a will.

If you do not have a will in place when you die the government creates one for you. It's known as intestacy. If you are married with children and no will then a proportion of your assets goes to your children on death which triggers a potential Inheritance Tax bill. The intestacy rules changed in October 2014.

Married with children and you die without a will.

Before October 2014: Assets up to £250K go to the spouse or civil partner. Assets above that limit are split 50/50 between the spouse and the children. But for the share of the assets above the £250K limit, the spouse only gets a "life interest" in the assets. In other words he or she can take interest from this share of the money, but can't spend the capital.

Tony Byrne
Financial Planning Director
Wealth And Tax Management

On their death this share passes to the children.

After October 2014: the situation is the same except the spouse no longer has a life interest in 50% of the estate above the £250K limit. He or she is free to spend the money how they wish.

What this all means for Inheritance Tax

One of the key Inheritance Tax benefits is that spouses can leave any amount to each other with no tax payable.

Giving assets to children will trigger an IHT bill if the gift exceeds the "nil rate band" or threshold above which the 40pc IHT applies which is £325K (£650K for a married couple).

So in the case of Rik Mayall, the assumption is that having died intestate with children, before the October changes, his wife would receive £250K of his assets with the rest being split equally between his wife and children. His wife would have a life interest in her share of these assets.

But if his children's share was worth more than £325,000, Inheritance Tax would become due.

Biking brothers: Connor and Fraser MacArthur are saddling up to take on an 80-mile bike ride to raise cash for Willen Hospice

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

WILLEN Hospice is appealing for more support to help it raise an essential £3.6million.

Two young boys are trying to inspire others to fundraise as they ride 80 miles around villages near their hometown of Olney to show their support for Ride for Willen.

As MK NEWS has previously reported, Ride for Willen involves 32 novice riders taking on an 800-mile challenge across France to raise £100,000 for the charity.

Five-year-old Fraser MacArthur and his brother Connor, seven, were so inspired by the group they wanted to do a Mini Ride for Willen.

Mum Linette, 42, said: "The support for the boys has snowballed. They are really keen."

To understand the problems the hospice is facing MK NEWS went on an exclusive tour of the charity's Willen Village headquarters.

Chief executive Paul Hinson stressed just 22 per cent of funding comes from the Government – the other 78 per cent has to be raised through events and community support.

He said: "Unlike hospitals, we have the time to go that extra mile for people to try and make in need of help patients as happy and as comfortable as possible during the end of their life.

"We are lucky to have an army of volunteers – some who have been here for more than 30 years. But we are looking for constant support, from donors and fundraisers in different ways."

Willen Hospice provides end-of-life care for the terminally ill. It has 15 beds at its headquarters. But this is only part of its work. The charity also has a community hub for people who want to visit during the day and take part in therapeutic activities like pottery and art. It has a physiotherapist, gym and wellbeing centre, as well as nurses and volunteers who visit people in their homes.

During our visit, I meet a man staying at the hospice. He said: "If you really knew what happened behind the scenes you would support them."

His visitor added: "Hospitals have let us down but we have really been able to get help here."

But the charity does not just focus on the support of its patients, it also provides a listening ear and support for that person's family and friends.

We met the family of a woman who recently passed away, who were talking to community hub manager Jackie Meissner.

She said: "Some of the family are from Australia and they have come here to see where their mum stayed and what she did when she was here.

"We think it is really important that they know they can come back and talk to us."

As MP for Milton Keynes South, Iain Stewart raised the need for more NHS support for Willen Hospice, in addition to help from volunteers and fundraisers, in a House of Commons debate last Wednesday.

If you would like to help the charity, you can see what events are going on each month, like the MK Midnight Moo, at www.mkweb.co.uk

Hundreds join ride in memory of Liam

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

Bikers turned out in force to raise cash for Liam Corgan's family

THE biking community showed its solidarity for one of its own on Saturday as hundreds of riders paid tribute to Liam Corgan with a specially organised ride up the A5.

Liam, 28, from Bletchley, died on May 20 after his blue Yamaha R1 collided with a 45-year-old man on a black Harley Davidson on the A422 near Deanshanger at about 11.50pm on May 18.

In a show of respect for him, the bikers set off from stadiummk at 9am on Saturday before making their way along the A5 up to popular bikers café the Super Sausage in Potterspury.

Barry Rowland, 29, was one of Liam's best friends and one of three people who organised the event.

"Everyone loved Liam and he did a lot for people – you could ask him to get up at four in the morning to help you with something and he would," said Mr Rowland.

"He would have done it for any of us and he'd be so proud of this.

"We expected about 20 bikers when we first thought of this and we're going to have at least 200 – it's giving me chills because some of these people might have never even met Liam."

Funds raised through the ride – with bikers donating a minimum of £5 – were given to Liam's partner Stacey Flynn and their four-year-old son Riley.

Stuart Clarke, 23, attended the ride despite barely knowing Liam and said it was typical of the motorbiking community for so many people to turn up.

"It's a family and if you ride a bike you're welcome in this community," said the Bletchley biker.

Lots of people on the ride also paid tribute to Liam on our Facebook and Twitter pages.

Luke Stocking said: "Great turnout, awesome ride!"

Agora concern for businesses

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

CONCERNS have been raised over the future of businesses in a shopping centre due to the potential redevelopment of the site.

The plans for the Agora in Wolverton could also mean the town could lose its only post office.

A planning application for the demolition and redevelopment of the site by Brickhill Estates is due to be discussed by Milton Keynes Council in July.

But businesses claim they still haven't been told whether they feature in the plans.

This has led to concerns about their future, according to Marie Osbourne, chairman of Future Wolverton – a community organisation which aims to improve the town.

She said: "The next few months are really significant. It's very difficult for this community to assess what the impact of the redevelopment will be if we don't know who those retailers are. I know there is significant concern from local businesses."

But Neil Hollingworth, one of the directors of Brickhill Estates, said he was keen to find space for any businesses that wished to remain in the centre and that the traders had been contacted.

He said: "We advised traders of our plans and said to them there's an opportunity to come into the new scheme should they want to. We're trying to involve as many people as possible and we're currently talking to traders."

Co-Operative Food is one retailer that is keen to be part of any redevelopment, but because of the uncertainty surrounding the plans it has given the Post Office that operates from its shop 12 months notice to leave. This means the Post Office, which is a franchise, must now find a new buyer and premises if it wants to continue to run in the town.

Charity gig

AN ANNUAL charity concert – this year held in memory of city musician Lewis Pantlin – has raised £4,661.83.

The Leukaemia and Lymphoma Research Concert is run by Denbigh School teacher Ed Jones, who suffers from leukaemia.

The road ahead

ON WEDNESDAY Thames Valley Police's Chief Constable Francis Habgood spoke to MK NEWS for the first time since he took up his new post on April 1. Reporter Jack Ash asked about the challenges ahead for the force, including cutting £13million from its budget

Read more on this story

Budget

"We don't know what the future is going to hold in terms of budget reductions but we know there are going to be reductions."

Technology

"Key areas I'm going to concentrate on in the future is investing in technology and how that will deliver a better service for the public. "That might be how the public contact the police, we primarily use phone or face-to-face contact and that is quiet an expensive outlet."

Crime

"Milton Keynes has seen reductions in the last set of figures and when you put that in the context of what is happening in Milton Keynes in terms of the growth in population I'm always astounded seeing that."

Stations

"A few years ago we invested in quite a lot of neighbourhood offices where PCSO and officers could pop in and go online. "We don't need that in the future because, if people have mobile data and can access that in the streets, they don't need that office and we can reduce that cost."

Collaboration

"We are working closely with other organisations, whether that is the ambulance service or mental health partners, to see whether that is the best service we offer to people."

MK MP to give away pay rise

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
editor@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes South MP Iain Stewart has reiterated his intention to increase his donations to charity should the proposed raise in MPs' salaries go ahead.

Meanwhile, Conservative MP for Milton Keynes North Mark Lancaster has said he 'will accept whatever the decision is' on politicians' pay.

When asked about the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority's (Ipsa's) latest ruling, Mr Stewart said: "Ipsa has said it will automatically pay the increase to MPs whether they want it or not.

"I have previously said should Ipsa do that and if the package of changes leaves me better off, this will allow me to increase my donations to local charities."

Iain Stewart, left, and Mark Lancaster have said what they will do with their 10 per cent pay rise if it is given the go-ahead

Mr Stewart donates and works with numerous charities in Milton Keynes, including Help for Heroes, MK Snap and Willen Hospice.

When asked the same question, Mr Lancaster said: "My view remains the same as it was when I was asked during the election campaign.

"MPs should not set their own pay and allowances and I will accept whatever the decision is, of what I understand is a cost neutral review by the independent review body."

This week, Ipsa stood by its original recommendation to raise MPs salaries by 10 per cent from £67,060 to £74,000.

Unless 'new and compelling evidence' is found, the independent watchdog will likely implement the change by the end of this month.

You could make a difference to a child or young person's life...

www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/fostering tel: 01908 253206

Milton Keynes Council is keen to recruit people who can offer a safe and loving home for a child/young person in care. We are especially seeking carers for teenagers. As a Milton Keynes Council foster carer you will be provided with a generous allowance plus support and training.

Our foster carers come from all walks of life and across a diverse community. They offer children and young people a nurturing, caring home environment where they can begin to thrive and reach their full potential.

It's a challenging role; one which will always ask for a great deal of input and support from you. However in providing a home to a child/young person who is unable to live with their family for a period of time you will be creating a wonderful experience for everyone involved.

Bletchley Park: More volunteers are needed to help at the historic attraction, which has enjoyed a huge surge in the number of people visiting it over the past 12 months

Can you volunteer?

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

BLETCHLEY Park has enjoyed an explosion in visitor numbers and this unprecedented success means more volunteers are needed.

In particular the park is looking for stewards to help visitors navigate the once top-secret site and ensure things run smoothly.

So far this year, more than 100,000 people have visited the park – an increase of more than 80 per cent on 2014.

The film The Imitation Game, starring Benedict Cumberbatch, and Kate Middleton's visit are two of the reasons for the surge in popularity.

An army of volunteers help visitors to discover the story of what happened at the park during the Second World War.

Husband and wife Ian and Helen Seddon volunteer as stewards and Bombe demonstrators.

Ian said: "We both enjoy the interaction with people, even though we didn't do much of that in our careers. It's very heartening and edifying to see we're attracting so many families now."

Helen added: "It's great to be contributing to something so worthwhile. It's all about the people here."

Meanwhile, The Road to Bletchley Park is a new exhibition that has opened. It is the first major display to explore codebreaking in the First World War. It aims to celebrate the pioneering achievements of those who paved the way for the codebreakers of the Second World War.

This week Bletchley Park has also been named Best Attraction for Groups in the 2015 UK Group Travel Awards.

ellenaltfest

MK Gallery presents the first solo exhibition in a UK public gallery of paintings by Ellen Altfest from New York.

The exhibition includes early paintings of rocks and trees in the landscape, plants in the studio and works from a series of male nude studies that Altfest first began in 2006.

Altfest's work calls to mind the precise naturalism of early Lucian Freud and finds affinities in others who painted from life such as Georgia O'Keeffe and Stanley Spencer. However, she has developed her own distinct approach to figurative and representational painting since graduating with an MFA from Yale University School of Art in 1997. Altfest will be showing almost 20 oil paintings from 1998 to the present, including three new works.

The exhibition is free to attend and is on until Sunday, June 21 during MK Gallery's opening hours, which are noon to 8pm Tuesday to Friday, 11am to 8pm on Saturday and 11am to 5pm on Sunday.

FOLLOWING the nationwide critically acclaimed hit premiere stage production of Peter James' The Perfect Murder earlier this year, work of the number one novelist returns to the stage with the adaptation of his most popular book – Dead Simple.

Detective Roy Grace will be leaving audiences on the edge of their seats at Milton Keynes Theatre until Saturday.

WOBURN Safari Park ranger BOB STREATFEILD writes his monthly column. In this latest article for MK LIFE, he details how the new arrivals just keep on coming at the park

THE Woburn Safari Park baby boom is continuing!

We have welcomed humboldt penguin chicks in Animal Encounters and three more beautiful barbary macaques.

We have also been blessed with new youngsters in the Kingdom of Carnivores...five African lion cubs born to mum Dakota and dad Kasanga.

They can be seen out in the reserve with other members of the pride.

The three boys and two girls are great fun to watch and their individual personalities are really showing!

We're running a competition to name the two female cubs. Send in your suggestions and you could win annual tickets for you and your family.

The BIAZA BioBlitz took place at the end of May at the park – a survey determining the species living in the park.

The team discovered breeding ravens, house mice, beckstein bats and Barry the bank vole! The area is such a haven for wonderful native wildlife.

Administrator

Full Time • Dunstable

mediaforce group

Whether you are a bright school leaver or someone looking for a second job, if you are interested in a role that combines administration and planning, this role will provide a great opportunity to develop your career with us.

Based in Dunstable, we're currently looking for a bright, enthusiastic and energetic Administrator to assist with the running of our large door-to-door newspaper and leaflet network. Join us and you'll help oversee the effective work scheduling and administration of a large and diverse team.

It's an exciting role that will see you involved in planning work schedules, liaising with team members on a daily basis, coordinating supplies and materials and generally ensuring that we deliver the service our customers expect. You will also be involved in the recruitment of new teams, so there is a great deal to challenge your skills. However, experience is not essential – provided you are keen to learn, flexible, have the right aptitude and are committed to work hard, we will provide full support and on-going training.

It is important that you have the ability to maintain accurate records against the pressure of daily deadlines and can work both as part of a team and on your own initiative. You'll also need to have a confident and efficient telephone manner and good communication skills.

Please email your CV to Debbie Hewlett at dhewlett@mediaforce.co.uk for more information.

The role will involve teaching across Key Stages 3-5. We would like to appoint either a History specialist commencing September 2015 or, for an exceptional candidate, the post of Head of History from September 2015 or January 2016.

The Head of Department role will carry a TLR2 of £4,254 per annum.

Visits to the school are most welcome.

Closing date: Monday 22nd June 2015 at 9.00am with interviews later that week.

Vauxhall Reveals Seventh Generation Astra

Vauxhall's have revealed images of the all-new seventh-generation Astra, which will reach production later this year at the company's Ellesmere Port manufacturing plant in Cheshire. Based on an all-new lightweight vehicle architecture with a new design, powertrains and technology, Astra will receive its world premiere at the 2015 Frankfurt Motor Show (September 17-27). The Astra is a household name for British car buyers with over 2.9 million sold in the UK over the last 36 years with over 50,000 last year.

Depending on the model and trim level it will be up to 200kg (130kg on average) lighter than its predecessor. The completely new vehicle architecture plays a major role in the weight reduction. Every component was checked for compact design and lightweight materials. The body shell weight alone was reduced by 20 per cent from 357kg to 280kg. Additional, chassis-related measures resulted in a further 50kg weight loss. These include high-strength and ultra-high-strength low-weight steels, compact subframes as well as weight reductions to the front and rear axle.

The all-new Astra features a powertrain portfolio including petrol and diesel units ranging from 100PS to 200PS. The highlight of the engine range is the all-new 1.4-litre (145PS) ECOTEC Direct Injection Turbo, a four-cylinder unit from the same family as the one-litre, three-cylinder engine seen in Corsa, ADAM and VIVA. The engine delivers maximum torque of up to 250Nm, with maximum power available between 1,800rpm and 4,000rpm.

Based on its construction, the new 1.4 ECOTEC Direct Injection Turbo also adds less weight to the car. The aluminium engine block weighs in at 10kg less than the cast-iron block of the current 1.4-litre turbo. There's also a base-level 1.0 ECOTEC Direct Injection Turbo (105PS) petrol engine and a 1.6 CDTi 'Whisper Diesel' range with outputs starting from 110PS up to 160PS.

Inspired by 2013's Monza Concept, the lean design makes the new Astra look more athletic than ever before thanks to work carried out by a design team led by Brit Mark Adams. The most significant design cue is the divided C-pillar, creating the impression of a floating roof. The interplay of light and shadow is emphasised by the horizontal crossbar above the brand logo linking the rear lights.

The Astra does not just look smaller – it is smaller. With a total length of 4.37m it is almost 5cm shorter than its predecessor. With a height of 1.46m it is also 2.6cm lower. The dimensions have an impact on aerodynamics and efficiency with the new Astra boasting a drag coefficient below 0.30.

The wheelbase may have been reduced by 2cm but the amount of space inside increased. In combination with newly-designed seats, the passengers in the rear can enjoy an additional 35mm legroom. The distance between the front- and rear-seats is increased providing comfort and space.

The high-quality cockpit and the instrument panel seamlessly transfer the characteristic and aesthetic exterior design to the interior, ensuring that a new interior design generation is introduced in the new Astra. It features a clean look which includes a large colour touchscreen in the centre stack and a reduced amount of control switches and buttons.

The new Astra is the first new Vauxhall model that will be available with the personal connectivity and service assistant OnStar from its launch. OnStar also turns the new Astra into a 4G LTE mobile Wi-Fi hotspot. Up to seven devices, from smartphones to tablets, can be connected simultaneously.

Making its debut in new Astra is the new generation IntelliLink infotainment system that is compatible with Android Auto and Apple CarPlay. The functions can be controlled via the large, up to eight-inch touchscreen located high on the center stack, via remote control on the steering wheel (volume) or via voice control.

The all-new Brit-built Astra will be the first Vauxhall to get glare-free IntelliLux LED Matrix Light. Bringing premium technology to the mainstream, these new LED headlights provide outstanding night time performance enhancing safety for the driver and those around them.

Another advantage is that mechanical movements are no longer necessary in the headlight – the individual LED segments turn on or off according to the situation, which also contributes to a durability that far exceeds the lifespan of a car.

Jaguar XF

X MARKS THE SPOT

Jaguar's XF is back. If you thought the Big Three German brands had the executive car sector sewn up, think again. Lighter, more spacious, better looking and a whole lot more efficient, the XF range throws down one enormous gauntlet.

Stay with us here. The XF range hinges around 2.0-litre diesel four-cylinder engines and while that doesn't sound too exciting, it's where the big sales are. These engines are offered in 163 and 180PS guises and are built around the company's latest aluminium architecture, which it calls 'Ingenium'. Shared with the smaller XE, these engines are backed up by a 300PS twin-turbocharged 3.0-litre diesel V6 and a 380PS supercharged 3.0-litre petrol V6. The diesel cranks out 700Nm and can rocket to 62mph in just 5.8 seconds. The 180PS four-cylinder diesel takes 8 seconds to get to 62mph and runs out of steam at 136mph. The petrol engine has been purloined from the F-TYPE sportster and is reserved exclusively for the racy XF S. Matched to an eight-speed automatic transmission, this model is capable of covering the 0-62mph sprint in 5.1 seconds on its way to an electronically-limited maximum speed of 155mph.

The chassis delivers near perfect 50:50 weight distribution and huge strides have been made to improve refinement. The XF shares its suspension set-up with the smaller XE model, which means struts with double wishbones at the front and an 'integral link' independent set-up at the rear. The steering uses the same electric power-assisted set-up as the Jaguar F-Type and XE, while active dampers are on the options list.

The styling of the XF has been subtly massaged to give it a more purposeful look. The curves have been retained but they now look more muscular. The front end borrows styling cues from sporty Jaguar coupes to give it a more dynamic look. The aluminium-intensive design shaves up to 190kg off the kerb weight. The 163PS diesel model weighs fully 80kg less than its nearest competitor. Size hasn't been sacrificed at the altar of weight though; at 4,954mm long, the XF is still a big car. The 2,960mm wheelbase is 51mm longer than before. Though 7mm shorter and 3mm lower than the original XF, rear seat space is class-leading thanks to 15mm more legroom, 24mm more kneeroom and up to 27mm more headroom than before. Aerodynamics are also superior: the drag coefficient drops from 0.29 to just 0.26.

The interior has come in for a rethink and Jaguar has worked to retain the same strong horizontal lines of the original XF fascia but render them in higher quality materials with a more mature design ethos. The layered instrument panel, now with Jaguar signature 'Riva Hoop' inspired by XJ, continues into the door, creating a unique cabin feel. The doors offer an optional soft-close function, and there's plenty of natural light flooding the cabin. If you want more, you can specify a panoramic sunroof. The rear bench also features a more practical 40:20:40 split, making it easier to through-load bulky items such as skis. The boot has the option of a power close function.

We really ought to know better by now. Perhaps it's because for so long we expected Jaguar to swing and miss that it's still somewhat dizzying when the company pulls a world-class product out of the bag, as it now does with regularity, to give the company its due. It's almost as if we expect the whole edifice to come falling down, but it doesn't. Investment from TATA goes in, excellent cars come out.

The XF was beginning to feel its age in the face of some formidable rivals, and nothing less than a ground-up redesign was going to cut it. What's so masterful about this true second generation XF is how cannily Jaguar have kept and built upon the good bits and been realistic about where the old car's weaknesses were. Now you really can have a beautiful executive class car, with a great reliability record that looks a million pounds, is built in Britain and sips fuel like a supermini. These truly are amazing times.

FORMULA ONE

From winning to 13th

RED Bull Racing team principal Christian Horner said they will look into why Daniel Ricciardo lacked pace after he suffered a disappointing Canadian Grand Prix.

Twelve months ago, the Australian driver was celebrating a victory in Montreal as he became the only driver of the season to win a grand prix that wasn't a Mercedes driver.

But fast forward a year and he was faced with the ignominy of Toro Rosso driver Carlos Sainz Junior passing him for 12th – a driver for Red Bull's sister team.

"Daniel struggled for pace all weekend, which is unusual for him so we'll now have an in-depth look at that to see what might have caused it," said Horner.

"It was a difficult race for the team today, as we simply did not have the pace to make any progress."

Ricciardo admitted that he was confused about why he struggled throughout the race.

Disappointing weekend: Daniil Kvyat finished ninth and Daniel Ricciardo 13th in the Canadian Grand Prix on Sunday

"It's been a strange weekend for me and I am a little confused about today's race," he said.

"There was nothing that felt especially wrong but we just couldn't get any pace out of the car. It is something we will look at to understand what the cause was."

It all meant Daniil Kvyat outperformed his teammate for the second race running, but even he could only manage a ninth-placed finish.

He said it was important to improve the power unit to the cars.

"It was a tough race because the Mercedes-powered cars had a clear advantage over us, but we managed to keep two of them behind us, which is the maximum we could have done," said Kvyat.

"Two championship points is the best we could have achieved.

"The team did a good job but we obviously have to improve in many areas including the power unit."

Ricciardo remains seventh in the drivers' standings with Kvyat just behind him, while Red Bull stay fourth in the constructors' championship having added two points to their total.

CYCLING

Broughton, 17, stars but men suffer crashes

THE third week of this year's Tour Series saw Bradwell Abbey-based Madison-Genesis pro racing team suffer from multiple crashes at the Croydon and Canary Wharf races.

But it was Charlotte Broughton, 17, of the Corley Cycles-Drops RT who was the star in round three of the Matrix Fitness women's grand prix series at Croydon, writes Gordon Wiseman.

Although lining up against many vastly more experienced riders, the very young Corley Cycles riders have never been overawed.

Always in the leading group which formed very early on, Broughton, whose background is on the track and racing mountain bikes, made sure she was always handily placed after each sprint to cover attempts to break at the front.

Coming out of the final corner, Broughton pressed hard on her pedals to push for second place but was just pipped on the line and had to settle for fourth place, which was her best performance of the year.

Through the pain: A bloodied Tom Stewart suffered from two crashes in the Madison-Genesis races over the last week

The men of the Tour Series saw Madison's Mike Northey be an early crash victim, as the rider in front of him twitched to his right at one of the circuit's pinch points.

And, bizarrely, team-mate Tom Scully was later brought down in exactly the same way and at the same point on the circuit.

At the front of the race a group of five had formed with the Madison pairing of Tom Stewart – successfully chasing points for the Sprinters jersey – and Tobyn Horton flying the flag for the city's number one race team.

But although it appeared that this five would contest the race finish, Stewart over-cooked a corner and crashed on his own but he recovered to finish fifth.

At Canary Wharf, Stewart was caught up in another rider's accident and simply had nowhere to go but into the barriers.

Madison finished second overall behind ONE Pro Cycling, meaning they take the slenderest one point lead into the final two races this week.

BADMINTON

Ouseph helps team to inaugural title

TEAM Derby lifted the inaugural National Badminton League (NBL) title on Sunday, led by Milton Keynes-based captain Rajiv Ouseph's brilliant singles win, to deny Loughborough Sport.

The UK's first badminton league culminated at the K2 Crawley, Sussex, in dramatic style as Ouseph's win set up a Championship finale which went down to the wire, with Team Derby securing a 3-2 win in the final event.

Ouseph had only returned to the UK on Saturday from the Indonesian Open after a month-long series of international tournaments.

But the England number one adapted superbly to the first-to-nine scoring system, which the NBL uses to beat Sweden's Henri Hurskainen 3-1.

"I fed off the energy of the crowd and off the team to get through that," said Ouseph.

"I feel like I had a responsibility to the team. I am one of the older players and I knew that I had to play well here.

"You need to get off to a good start and it is crucial to be switched on in this format."

Wins for Chris Coles and Andy Ellis in the men's doubles also helped them win.

Team Derby had earlier beaten University of Nottingham Sport in the Play-Off semi-finals, while Loughborough Sport had outgunned Surrey Smashers, the pre-tournament favourites, 5-0.

CRICKET

STONY Stratford lost to Geddington by 91 runs in the Northamptonshire Cricket League.

In the Cherwell Cricket League, Great Brickhill stayed top after beating Long Marston by three wickets, while Wolverton Town claimed 18 points after drawing with Banbury Seconds.

In the Four Counties League, North Crawley lost to Eaton Bray by six wickets, which means Milton Keynes are now top after they drew with Milton Keynes City. New Bradwell beat New City (Milton Keynes) by seven wickets.

ATHLETICS

MARSHALL Milton Keynes Athletics Club's ladies team finished an encouraging fourth in the second of the UK Women's athletics League Division Two matches in Bedford.

Joey Duck is in good form at the moment and competed at an invitation event in Geneva. She placed second in the Series A 200m race with a time of 11.60, which equalled her personal best.

The club again hosted the prestigious British Millers Club evening for middle-distance athletes under 20 from all over the UK. During the evening there were 36 races involving 384 runners of whom 184 set personal bests.

ICE HOCKEY

MOTORSPORT

EUROSTAR-BACKED Andrew Jarman battled against the odds at the flagship round of the Avon Tyres British GT Championship at Silverstone to secure a third consecutive top 10 finish after three hours of racing.

The weekend started with drama after an uncharacteristic engine misfire from the #27 TF Sport | Aston Martin Vantage GT3 left Jarman and teammate Jody Fannin unable to register a competitive time in qualifying on Saturday, leaving a mountain to climb for Sunday's race from 17th on the grid.

After a superb effort from the TF Sport team to change the engine overnight, Jarman took to the track early on Sunday morning for the warm-up, setting the sixth fastest time in soaking wet conditions with the engine problem resolved.

Three safety cars appeared in the race and they managed to fight their way up to eighth overall.

Prior to round four of the Avon Tyres British GT Championship at Spa Francorchamps on July 11, Jarman will be heading to the Circuit de la Sarthe to compete in the Aston Martin Festival Race during the morning of the 24-Hours of Le Mans.

Second best ever jump for Diamond Rutherford

BY MARIOS PAPALOIZOU

Sportsbeat

OLYMPIC champion Greg Rutherford believes the home crowd brings the best out of him after he produced his longest-ever jump on British soil.

The jump took place at the Sainsbury's Summer Grand Prix, which is a leg of the Diamond League, at Birmingham's Alexander Stadium on Sunday.

Rutherford had been struggling with a hip injury but it wasn't long before he established himself as the front runner for victory with a second jump of 8.35m enough for the win.

The 28-year-old jumped 8.31m to claim Olympic gold in 2012 and 8.20m at the Commonwealth Games in 2014. He jumped 8.51m in San Diego last year.

But he showed that he is still at the height of his powers ahead of the World Championships in Beijing this summer.

"I was absolutely over the moon, it's always great to win. I knew it was going to be tough so I am chuffed to bits," said Rutherford.

"I love jumping in front of a British crowd, I had that at the Olympics and it sparked everything for me.

"I think now I've got something I can build off and get myself some big distances and hopefully get myself over the 8.50m mark again."

Sainsbury's is a proud partner of British Athletics. The partnership reflects Sainsbury's wider commitment to inspiring healthy lifestyles for all, and complements grassroots campaigns such as Active Kids and the Sainsbury's School Games. www.sainsburys.co.uk.

Dean Bowditch is the latest player to sign a new contract at Dons

DEAN Bowditch is the latest Don to put pen to paper on a new contract at stadiummk.

The forward has signed a two-year deal which extends his affiliation with the Club until the end of the 2016/17 season.

As well as contributing throughout the campaign, Bowditch played an especially pivotal role in the Dons' epic run of nine wins from their final 10 games which ultimately secured promotion to the Sky Bet Championship, delivering a high level of performance and scoring four goals.

"I'm absolutely over the moon," he told MK Dons Player.

"As soon as the Club said they wanted to offer me a contract, I was really pleased.

"It was a bit of an up and down season for me but I thought I finished well and the chance to play in the Championship is very exciting.

"I scored some goals and set some up towards the end – I felt like I was getting back to where I was when I first came. If I can continue that then it will only help the team and that's my main aim.

"As a team, we finished brilliantly and hopefully we take that momentum into next season."

Bowditch, who started his career at Ipswich Town, a side he will go head to head with next season, joined Dons in June 2011 and has found the net 35 times in 152 appearances during his four seasons at stadiummk.

The 28-year-old follows in the footsteps of Carl Baker, Lee Hodson, Tom Flanagan and Dean Lewington in penning a new deal, while Joe Walsh has made his move a permanent one and the Club have exercised options in the contracts of Jordan Spence and Daniel Powell to keep the pair for at least another year.
